

INTERTRONICS is dedicated to exceeding our customer expectations by providing quality material, consumable and equipment solutions to the high technology, high performance assembly industries, incorporating outstanding levels of technical support and customer service.

We will achieve this by working with select supplier partners for whom we provide, in the UK and Irish market

- an effective and focused marketing resource
- a trained and enthusiastic technical sales team
- excellent order fulfilment and supply chain management
- ongoing and responsive customer support

We will focus on the high technology, high performance assembly industries, including electronics, medical devices, optics and automotive. We will continue to grow our expertise and experience in adhesive technology and electronics manufacturing.