

The icing on the cake

Most of the automated, robotic dispensers we supply go to the sort of industrial companies one might expect – they are used to dispense adhesives, gaskets, inks & coatings to people making electronics, parts for cars, furniture and the like.

So it's nice to have a slight change of pace – we have furnished a company with dispensing robots for cake decoration. The reasons, however, are the usual ones – increased accuracy and quality, and increased production throughput.
