

Webinar - Precision Dispensing

Do you have total confidence in the accuracy and consistency of your dispensing?

Do you want to find out about the latest precision dispensing technologies?

Accurate, consistent dispensing or dosing of fluids and liquids is prerequisite to many processes in industries such as medical device manufacturing (to ensure validated repeatability), microelectronics (to ensure precision and pharmaceutical (to ensure biochemical integrity).

Find out how liquids with viscosities from water to thick pastes can be dispensed in units from as small as 0.001ml ... with total repeatability.

The webinar will last for 30 minutes plus ample opportunity to ask questions.
