

Article on precision dispensing published in FAST magazine

We are absolutely delighted to have had one of our technical articles about precision dispensing published in this month's FAST magazine. FAST magazine is the UK's fastening, adhesives and assembly journal for manufacturing professionals.

The article concerns the endless piston pump technology which features in our preeflow range of precision dispensers. You can download a pdf facsimile, or have a look at our more detailed white paper.
