

Introducing our new Technology Centre

We're delighted to announced the launch of our rebuilt Technology Centre – our facility here in Kidlington (just north of Oxford) where over the years we've hosted hundreds of customers to discuss your assembly and bonding needs.

The new Centre – air-conditioned and some three times the size of the previous facility – is a perfect example of form following function, being custom-designed for demonstrations of, and discussions around, our materials and equipment.

Featuring new high tech benching, the Centre is brightly illuminated to ensure that no detail in the processes being discussed is missed. You can talk about your needs over a coffee at an informal breakout area. There's also a dedicated meeting area complete with monitor and ample scribbling space on whiteboards. We are able to host our Adhesive Technology Seminars in this space.

We've already welcomed a number of customers to the new Technology Centre, and look forward to welcoming you too.
