

Intertronics welcomes Kidlington work experience students

Student Roy with James from our Customer Service Support

Last week we welcomed two local students for the week as part of the Gosford Hill School work experience programme. The two students, currently studying for their GCSE's, got stuck in to everyday life here at our offices in Kidlington, with Roy keen to understand some of the commercial aspects of a business, while Goncalo picked up some organisation and logistics skills in the warehouse. Both students spent time with more than one of our teams and were exposed to different aspects of our operations, accounting, sales and marketing, and how they work together to function day to day. It was a real pleasure to have the boys with us, to give them a small boost along their journey, and to have supported our local Kidlington community.
