

Adhesive process choices - best available option

The best available option. That's not the same as perfect. The best available option is always available. Perfect almost never is.

Adhesive choice is always about compromise.

- the cost of the adhesive versus the cost of processing it
- the robustness of the adhesive versus rework-ability or end-of-life recycling

The perfect adhesive for your project almost never exists. But talk to us about the best available option.
