

15 Years of Learning - Kevin Brownsill

Our Learning and Development Manager, Kevin Brownsill, recently celebrated his 15-year milestone at Intertronics. Over the years, Kevin has seamlessly navigated various sales and technical roles, accumulating a staggering level of knowledge of our adhesives and equipment, including a worryingly encyclopaedic memory of part numbers.

To mark his 15 years with the company, Kevin, who is an avid Formula 1 fan, was sent under starters orders down the road to Red Bull's F1 base in Milton Keynes. On returning from his trip, Kevin said:

"It has been an honour to reach my 15th anniversary at Intertronics in my recently appointed learning and development role. I'm hugely fascinated in engineering and manufacturing so being given the opportunity to visit Red Bull for a factory tour was a brilliant gift to be given. I'm incredibly grateful to everyone at Intertronics for their support and encouragement to continue growing."

Thank you for your years of support, Kevin!
